Damaged by Water.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 9 .- A special to the Evening Telegraph from Lockport, N. Y., says: Water was let into the hydraulic race, which runs around the brow of the hill in Lockport, Thursday night, and about one o'clock yesterday morning a new bulk-head, just completed, suddenly washed out at a point where the bank has a perpendicular fall of fifty feet, and twenty feet of embankment was carried away in twenty minutes. Sidewalks and streets of embankment was carried away in twenty minutes. Sidewalks and streets were torn up by the immense volume of water, the Niagara canning factory flooded, and sixty tons of coal washed into the canal, and great damage done to goods in the factory. Culverts were stopped up with rocks, and, altogether this is the largest washout that has ever occurred here, as about a dozen large establishments cannot run until temporarily repaired. The loss. run until temporarily repaired. The loss, which probably fails on the hydraulic race company, is estimated at $50,000. It will the about a month to set it renaired.

Forty-four Million Feet of Pine Lumber Destroyed by Fire at Chicago Loss $1,500,000.

The Heaviest Loss Since the Great Fire of 1874-A Vessel and Five Dwellings Also Burned-List of the Sufferers.

A PEARFUL FIRE.

CHICAGO, May 9.—For more than eight hours yesterday the entire fire department of Chicago, two hundred of her police and a thousand of her citizens fought and struggled with one of the most stubborn conflagrations which the city has seen since the memorable fire of 1871. The scene was the immense lumber district on the southwestern out-skirts, six miles from the City Hall and less than a mile from the Stock Yards. Here lying on either side of the Chicago River is, or rather was, a vast field of pine lumber, skirting the river front, extending back for several blocks, piled in stacks from forty to fifty feet in height and averaging forty usand feet to the stack.

At half-past twelve a workman rushed into the office of the Chicago Lumber Company, on the west side of the river, and an-nounced, between his gasps for breath, that there was a fire in Alley 28. An alarm was at once sounded, but ten minutes later, when the first engines arrived on the spot, a half million feet of lumber was in flames. Sec-ond and third alarms were sounded, and the entire force of the Street Cleaning Depart-ment was ordered to the scene, but the in-flammable nature of the material had placed the flames beyond control.

flammable nature of the material nad piacea; the flames beyond control.

To make matters worse, a scow which had been moored in the river took fire, broke her fastenings and was swept across the stream, fastenings and was swept across the stream, communicating the flames to the extensive yards of G. W. 'Hinckley & Co., Bigelow Bros., and Adams, Hastings & Co. Twenty steamers, stationed one behind the other, on either bank, poured copions streams of water upon the blazing lumber, but the water was so impregnated with grease and oil from the factories above that it fed rather than quenched the flames. The wind was blowing a hurricane, the heat was terrible and the immense volumes of black smoke blinded and suffocated the firemen and retarded/kheir efforts.

The fire continued to spread in a southerly direction until it covered an arena of a half-moon shape, one half mile from one end to the other and a quarter of a mile deep at the centre. All this territory was ablaze and resembled, as one after the other of the piles collapsed and took fire, throwing tongues of flame high in the air, the scene of a vomiting volcano with a vast landscape of fire stretched out beneath. The firemen, headed for a time by Mayor Harrison, worked with might and main, but they were driven back yard by yard and in many cases so rapidly had the retreat to be made that engines and hose were left behind. Huge pieces of burning lumber were carried by the wind a distance of half a mile to Halstead Street and lodged on the roofs of several frame houses, all which were gutted. Scores of families, some a mile distant, removed their household goods to the prairie, while many buried their valu-ables in the ground.

At nine o'clock last night the fire was re-ported as under control. Several firemen were prostrated by heat or injured by fall-ing timber. ing timber.

A partial list of the sufferers, with losses roughly estimated is as follows: Chicago Lumber Company, 26,000,000 feet, $450,000 to $500,000; insurance $300,000. Bigelow Bros., 10,000,000 feet, $160,000; insurance $125,000. Adams, Hastings & Co., $,000,000 feet, $100,000; insurance $60,000, G. W.

feet, $100,000; insurance $60,000. G. W. Hinckley & Co., planing mill and lumber, $26,000; insurance $12,000. Five dwellings, $6,000; insured. Other estimates place the total loss as high as $1,500,000. It is note-worthy that this was the first occasion upon which the entire fire department has been called out since 1874.

laim to Have a Clue of th Charles A. Libby.

CHICAGO, May 9 .- The Pinkertons claimed yesterday that they have a clue as to the whereabouts of Charles A. Libby, the missing New York and Chicago shirt manufacturer. They believe him to be alive, but the developments are such that they refuse to divulge them. The friends and relatives of Mrs. Libby at Philadelphia. where she was married seven years ago, have been notified, but it is not thought that they will have time to reach here before the burial, as the corpse cannot be kept long. The burial will take place at Graceland, where Mr. and Mrs. Libby have one child buried. Two little daughters scarcely old enough to realize their great misfortune, have been removed from the scene of the tragedy and will be kept away until after the burial. Their uncle, Mr. James L. Libby, will then take them with him to his home in New Yark. home in New York.

Pension Agent Confesses to Forgery. NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 9.-In March last Frank Prescott, once a druggist, but latterly a pension and claim agent, was sent to jail for a year for appropriating elever dollars belonging to a pensioner. He took the money while hard up and meant to replace it. Since his incarceration he has confessed to a detective that in 1882, after obtaining a pension for one Timothy Camp-bell, and during the latter's confinement for drunkenness he forged Campbell's name to a pension check, cashed the same, and paid over the proceeds to Campbell's wife, that being the only way he had of relieving her distress for money. This crime which Pres-cott takes no pains to conceal will probably send him to jail for five additional years. His wife has been made insane by the new

Attempted to Murder His Wife. ISLIP,-L. I., May 9.-Dr. J. H. V. Miller, of this place attempted to murder his wife Thursday night. He attacked her with a lance and cut two wide gashes in her throat and one on her wrist, in vain attempts to sever the jugular vein and main artery. Mrs. Miller's cries for help brought neighbors to her assistance and prevented her husband from carrying out his design. He made his escape but was taken into custody yesterday and locked up. Dr. Miller has not lived happily with his wife, of whom it is said he is insanely jealous. "Buffato" Miller Acquitted.

CHICAGO, May 9,-The case of Francis Eastman against H. B. Whee Was Intended to be a Private Ere-MORGANFIELD, Ky., May 9.-At an early hour Thursday evening crowds began to gather from Webster, Union and Henderson countles to witness the hanging of Moses Caton, the wife murderer, and those who could find no lodgings camped out on vacant lots or wherever a resting place could be found.

Yesterday morning crowds of people were coming from every direction by boats, including a large number of excursionists from down the river. Others came in by railroad and every conceivable conveyance, and fully 6,000 people were blocking the streets. It had been intended to have the execution private, but the people from this and adjoining counties declared that it should be public, and that if a wall was built around the scaffold it would be torn down.

In view of the strong public feeling upon the subject the original plan was abandoned and the scaffold was erected on the lot back of and in sight of the jail. Up to dark the murderer had shown no repentance, but about nine o'clock he asked for a clergyman. Rev. Mr. Petrie responded and bad an interview with him. Caton declared himself innocent and said he "wouldn't lie about it now." He said he felt no malice toward any one, was perfectly willing to die and that he was sure of going to heaven. He also expressed a wish that he might be buried in his clothes, so that Satan might know him when he came across him.

At 19:45 religious servic s were held in the jail, but Caton took no part. He walked to the gallows firmly. The trap was sprung at 1:05 p. m. and Caton shot downward eight feet, the fall breaking his neck. Twenty minutes later he was cut down and given to his brother. The farewel scene between Caton and his sons was very affecting.

The Tories Indignant at What TheylTorm Another Slap in the Pace by Rus The Besignation of Lord Duf. orin Denied.

BUSSIA INTERT ON BAVING HERAT. LONDON, May 9.—Political circles are again agitated over the conduct of Russia with regard to the Russo-Afghan frontier question. It is now asserted in official circles that the St. Petersburg officials have eremptorily refused to enter into any agree. ment or treaty with England containing a pledge that Russia will refrain from making a forward movement on Herst. This arrogant attitude of Russia was the all absorb ing topic last night, and has in a gree measure revived the war talk. The Tories are indignant at what they term another slap in the face by Russia. The belief is general that Russia is playing tricks and that the Czar is fully intent on having Herat at any cost.

The report published in the Morning Post that Lord Dufferin, Viceroy of India, had tendered his resignation in consequence of the disastrous effect of Mr. Gladstone's the disastrous effect of Mr. Gladstone's weak and timerous policy on British prestige in India, is emphatically denied in official circles. On the contrary, it is asserted that the Vicerov is in full accord with the policy pursued by the Government in the settlement of the Russo-Afghan dispute, and that he fully approves of Mr. Gladstone's present action regarding the frontier question.

stone's present action regarding the frontier question.

The rumor of the resignation orginated on the Stock Exchange and has been repeated by several newspapers. The Duity News yesterday morning gave the report a distinct denial and it receives no credence.

It is expected that the announcement in the St. Petersburg Official Messenger, of the proposed arbitration will have a reassuring effect as being the first intimation by Russia that she will negotiate with England.

Rumors that the Russians are steadily advancing in Afghanistan are traced to Paris, and can not be confirmed. The Times yesterday again urged the Government to induce the Ameer to allow the English troops to garrison Herat.

agency in Paris, calls attention to the fact that Germany has remained silent in regard to her attitude in the Anglo-Russian controthat Germany has remained silent in regard to her attitude in the Anglo-Russian controversy. It is said that the German Ambassador in London still holds as serious a view of the situation as when everything looked desperate, and that the English officials still fear that Germany is unfavorably disposed toward England and is not anxious to see peace. The cost of the Russian railway being constructed from Askabad to Merv is estimated at 16,000 rubles per verst, exclusive of rails or rolling stock.

In the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, Mr. Gladstone gave notice of his intention to move, at an early day, that an allowance be made to Princess Beatrice in view of her approaching marriage to Prince Henry, of Battenburg.

Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, in the House last evening, in reply to the question of Mr. Thomas Sexton, Home Rule and advanced. Liberal member for Sligo, as to whether the Government had in any way used its influence at the Austrian court to bring about a protest against the appointment of Alexander M. Kelley, as United States Minister to Austria, stated that the Government had in no way meddled with the matter.

Sir Stafford Northcote, the Conservative leader, in the House of Commons yesterday gave notice that he would move on Monday that the House be fully informed as to the use to which the Government proposed to put the money voted for the recent war credit. In giving this notice Sir Stafford contended that the House was entitled to the fullest knowledge of the application of the large sum which had been granted. Sir Stafford's motion is looked upon as virtually a motion of censure, and the Conservatives

Stafford's motion is looked upon as virtually a motion of censure, and the Conservatives have evidently concluded that a fitting opportunity is presented for a trial of strength between the parties.

Dispatches from India state that Colonel Patrick Stewart of Sir Peter Lumsden's staff, has arrived at Herat. Colonel Stewart statted for Herat before his recall, recently forwarded by the Government, had reached the headquarters of the British frontier

Reports from Cabul state that the Ameer will strongly fortify the frontier as soon as is determined.
At a review of the Camel Corps of the Guards, at Suakim yesterday, General Wolseley urged the men to perfect them-acives, as they would be wanted on the Nile next autumn. This is understood as indicating the General's unaltered epposition to the policy of abandoning the Soudan. Germany and England have, through their Commissioners, reached an agreement con-Commissioners, reached an agreement con-cerning their respective subjects in the Pa-cific. English subjects are placed by a per-fectly equal footing with Germans in the Islands recently seized by Germany and Ger-man subjects are placed on an equality with English in New Guinea. New differential duties are to be established effecting com-merce of the colonies. Traffic in firearms, ammunition and alcoholic liquors is prohib-ited. Thieves Broken Up-Terrible End o long ago, broke out afresh at their home, near here, and two sons joined issue with their mother, making it very uncomfortable for the father. The neighbors espoused the old man's cause, helped him put the boys give up a team of oxen, claimed by both parties. The sons refused, and a crowd of about ten masked men then entered the Olsen residence Wednesday night, maltreated the old lady, presented the elder son with a suit of tar and feathers, dragged him over the prairie lashed to the rear end of a lumber wagon, and frightened the other son so badly that he fied from the neighborhood. He was found on Thursday twenty miles distant, half naked and insane. Officers from this city are on the track of the persons who
